1. Theatre: This building was originally the Woodshed for the Big House. The attached building is the original Laundry House.

4. Big House: Built in 1797 for the John Craig Family, with additions in 1807-08 designed by Benjamin H. Latrobe. Several rooms remain largely unchanged from the Craig era, while Walter’s renovations updated other rooms, enlarged the house and added the monumental portico in the Greek Revival style facing the Delaware River. The house is furnished with original pieces from generations of the Craig and Biddle families.

5. Billiard Room (Private): In an early painting, it appears as a one-story building with an ice cellar. The building took its present temple-like shape in 1835-36 when Walter assisted Nicholas Biddle in adding a second-floor card room. Jane Biddle was actively involved in the project—even stopping work at one point until changes to the design could be approved by her husband. The building was intended as a billiard and game room for the gentlemen of the house and was stocked with its own supply of wine.

6. Grotto: Designed by Thomas U. Walter and built in 1834 and 1836 as a Gothic “ruin”, the Grotto first served as a ladies’ retreat during the hot summer days. It is now a memorial to the Craig and Biddle families, some of whom are interred here.

8. Green Walk: The current design was created by Lady Arabella Lennox-Boyd in 2017. The Green Walk is an aisle leading to the Walled Garden lined by pink flowering Dogwoods and featuring a collection of herbaceous plants and shrubs in a variety of purple, pink and white colors. Note the Weeping Baldcypress (Taxodium distichum ‘Pendens’).

9. Ice House: Ice was cut from the river in winter and stored here and beneath the Billiard Room for summertime use. The Wisteria arbor and elaborately decorated door were added by Lady Arabella Lennox-Boyd in 2017.

11. Conifer Border: Originally installed by James Biddle in 1975 to house a collection of dwarf conifers acquired from Fred Bergman’s collection at ‘Raraflora’, the Conifer Border was re-interpreted by Lady Arabella Lennox-Boyd in 2018. The border includes the original Hinoki Cypress (Chamaecyparis obtusa ‘Nana Compacta’), Umbrella Pine (Sciadopitys verticillata) and select dwarf conifers, but now includes a selection of spring flowering trees. Note the massive Willow Oak (Quercus phellos) at the end of the bed.

12. The Graperies: During the burst of activity in the 1830s, Nicholas Biddle undertook his most ambitious agricultural project – the raising of fine table grapes. Surviving today are the enormous stone walls that physically supported the greenhouse and Stoke Holes (Furnace Rooms), which have been partially restored to better explain the system of heating the grape houses. Tree lovers will enjoy the River Burch (Betula nigra ‘Cully’), Japanese Maple (Acer palmatum ‘Sango Kaku’), Southern Magnolia (Magnolia grandiflora) and espalier Pears and Kousa Dogwood.

13. Rose Garden: The original Rose Garden was created by Letitia Glenn Biddle in the early 20th century and features a collection of rose varieties including Hybrid Tea, Old Garden and English, among many others.

14. Peony Walk: A collection of peonies that was probably gathered by Letitia Glenn Biddle in the early 20th century. The line of bordering trees was planted to demonstrate various types of spring flowering trees.

15. Gold Garden: The Gold Garden features our remarkable Paperbark Maple (Acer griseum) highlighted by a collection of trees, shrubs and perennials that complement the gold and red tones of its bark.

16. Pet Cemetery: The memorial stones were gathered from the estate. The two large standing ones were sculpted by artist George Kelly. Note the beautiful Japanese Stewartia (Stewartia pseudocamellia) and the Hornbeam Arch (Carpinus caroliniana) leading into the Easter Garden.

17. Long Border: Currently in the process of being redesigned for opening in 2021.

18. Woodland Walk: In the spring, this area provides a carpet of daffodils and a display of flowering azaleas.

19. Easter Garden: Designed to peak between late March and late April, the Easter Garden features several Star Magnolias (Magnolia stellata) and Redbuds (Cercis canadensis) as well as a number of shrubs and perennials in pastel colors.

20. Big Meadow

22. Privies (Restrooms): Originally Greek Revival outhouses, these have been converted into modern facilities for the visitors’ comfort.
